

Admissions Policies

Our Commitment

Middletown Christian Schools (MCS) is a distinctly Christian school. Our programs are intentionally grounded in the Word of God and our Statement of Faith. MCS is not simply a school that offers Christian values; rather, Biblical truth is foundational to how we educate and disciple students. We believe Christian education works best when the home and school are striving toward a common purpose. Our goal is to partner with families who desire to see their children grow spiritually, academically, and physically, and who are willing to support the school's mission and expectations.

Admissions Expectations

1. Faith and Church Involvement – At least one parent or legal guardian must profess a personal relationship with Jesus Christ and be able to provide a testimony of faith in Christ as their Savior. At least one parent or legal guardian must also be actively involved in a local church whose beliefs are consistent with the MCS Statement of Faith.
2. Biblical Worldview and Standards – Families must understand and support the biblical principles and Christian worldview that are integrated throughout our educational programs. MCS believes Scripture establishes marriage as the covenantal union of one man and one woman. Parents and legal guardians are expected to honor and uphold this biblical understanding of marriage and the school's standards regarding sexual and moral purity. MCS does not consider cohabitation or unmarried couples living together to be consistent with these standards, and such circumstances may be grounds for denial of admission.
3. Student Conduct – Students enrolled at MCS are expected to participate respectfully in the school's Christ-centered environment and demonstrate the willingness and ability to function within its academic, behavioral, and disciplinary expectations. Parents are expected to support these standards and work cooperatively with faculty, staff, and administration.
4. Academic Expectations – MCS will consider a student's records when determining whether the student is prepared for the appropriate grade level. Regular attendance and punctuality are essential to student success and are expected as part of enrollment. MCS will consider whether it has the resources necessary to serve a student's educational needs. Families are expected to provide complete and accurate information regarding a student's educational needs and history.

MCS reserves the right to evaluate each application individually, and meeting the stated admissions criteria does not guarantee admission. By applying for admission, families acknowledge that they understand these expectations and are willing to support Middletown Christian Schools' mission and policies.